(The Three Musketeers)

“Upon the keynote of love Wagner depicts the passing of the Old and the birth of the New. Love will be the motivating power of the coming Aquarian Age – all-encompassing and all-enfolding love that will bring fulfillment to the poet’s dream of an age in which all men shall know the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man.”

- Corinne Heline

(Esoteric Music Based on the Musical Seership of Richard Wagner)

“You never change things by fighting the existing reality. To change something, build a new model that makes the existing model obsolete.”

- Buckminster Fuller

“...children will follow the lifestyle practised by the majority of people around them. That means that the raising of children depends entirely on your own understanding of the world, on how you live your own life, how your parents live and how society in general lives. A sick and unhappy society can only give birth to sick and unhappy children.”

- Vladimir Megré
(The Book of Kin)

King Arthur: “You know the Law we live by. Where is it written, ‘Beyond Camelot live lesser people? People too weak to protect themselves, let them die?’”

Malagant: “Other people live by other laws, Arthur. Or, is the Law of Camelot to rule the entire world?”

King Arthur: “There are laws that enslave men and laws that set them free. Either what we hold to be right and good and true IS right and good and true for all mankind, under God, or we’re just another robber tribe.”

- First Knight
(Movie - 1995)

Sibylla: “You’ve been given a patch of dirt, and it seems you will build a New Jerusalem here.”

Balian: “It is my land. Who would I be if I did not try to make it better?”
